Plannodd y plant hyn 36 o fylbiau cennin pedr sy'n cael eu cynrychioli gan y 36 cenhinen bedr ar fathodyn yr ysgol. Wrth i'r ysgol dyfu lleolwyd Ysgol Panteg ar ddau safle yn Griffithstown a Kemys Fawr, Sebastopol. Ers mis Chwefror 2017, rydym wedi ein lleoli ar ein safle bresennol ar Heol yr Orsaf. Ar hyn o bryd mae gennym dros 400 o ddisgyblion yn hannu o ardal Pont-y-Pŵl, Griffithstown, New Inn a Sebastopol. Mae'r disgyblion yn mwynhau ac yn profi addysg gyfrwng Cymraeg a chyfoeth o brofiadau cyffrous. Ein amcanion yw:

- Creu amgylchedd croesawgar a diogel lle mae plant, staff a'r rhieni'n hyderus ac yn llawn cymhelliant;
- Sicrhau bod pob plentyn yn teimlo ei fod yn cael ei gynnwys, ei werthfawrogi a'i barchu waeth beth fo'u gallu, rhyw, anabledd, ethnigrwydd, crefydd, cefndir teuluol, diwylliant neu iaith y cartref;
- Annog plant i wneud eu gorau glas, gan sicrhau bod y heriau addysgu'n gwella sgiliau a hunan-hyder plant;
- Rhoi amser i blant siarad am eu dysgu ag oedolion ac i blant eraill;

Ysgol Panteg opened its doors in September 2010 on the original site on Oxford Street in Griffithstown with 36 children. These children planted 36 daffodil bulbs which are represented by the 36 daffodils on the school badge. As the school grew Ysgol Panteg was then situated on two sites in Griffithstown and Kemys Fawr, Sebastopol. Since February 2017, we have been located on our fantastic site on Station Road. At present we have over 400 pupils coming from the Pontypool, Griffithstown, New Inn and Sebastopol area all enjoying and experiencing Welsh medium education and a wealth of exciting experiences. Our aims are:

- To create a welcoming and secure environment where children, staff and parents are confident and motivated;
- To ensure that all children feel included, valued and respected regardless of their ability, gender, disability, ethnicity, religion, family background, culture or home language;
- To encourage children to do their 'very best', ensuring that the teaching challenges each and every child to enhance their skills and self-confidence;
- To give children time to talk about their learning to adults and other children;
- To provide learning experiences which foster children's creativity, enthusiasm and curiosity;
- To provide learning experiences which foster self-esteem and help children to develop positive relationships with others both within the school and in the wider community;
- To help children develop into reliable, independent and positive citizens;
- Our aim is to ensure that every child leaves us as a confident individual, believing in themselves and showing respect and concern for others.

Pedwar Panteg / The Panteg Four

Yn sail i bwrpas ein hysgol, fel yr amlinellir yn ein arwyddair ('Meithrin Meddyliau Craff'), mae pedwar bloc adeiladu – dyma ein gwerthoedd. Fel ysgol, rydym am fyw ac anadlu'r pedwar gwerth craidd hyn a dal ein hunain atynt fel ein nodau a'n dyheadau. Gyda'n gilydd mae'n rhaid i ni ymrwymo i fod yn garedig wrth ein gilydd ac yn deulu cyd-gefnogol. Rhaid inni ymrwymo i fod yn angerddol gyda chymhelliant i ddysgu a sicrhau lles pob aelod o'n cymuned. Rhaid i ni fod yn uchelgeisiol a mynnu ar disgwyliadau uchel ar gyfer y gymuned hon, yr ysgol hon a phob unigolyn.

Underpinning our school's purpose, as outlined in our motto ('Meithrin Meddyliau Craff' – 'Nurturing Sharp Minds'), there are four building blocks – these are our values. As a school, we want to live and breathe these four core values and hold ourselves to them as our aims and aspirations. Together we must commit to being kind to one another and a co-supportive family. We must commit to being fired up with motivation for learning, the Welsh language and ensuring the wellbeing of all members of our community. We must be ambitious and hold high expectations for this community, this school and each and every individual.

Sut fydd y targed yn helpu ni wreiddio a byw ein gwerthoedd yn well? /
How will this target help us to root our values and live them out better?

Yn dilyn ein harolygiad Estyn llwyddiannus diweddar yn 2023, mae ein hysgol yn gyson yn ceisio hunan-wella a datblygu cryfderau yn arfer sy'n arwain y sector a gwendidau mewn i arfer dda. O'r herwydd, un o'n ffocws ar gyfer blwyddyn academaidd 2024-2025 fydd datblygu annibyniaeth plant ymhellach. Byddwn yn datblygu ein fframwaith annibyniaeth pwrpasol ymhellach ac yn parhau i ddatblygu matrices sy'n fwyfwy rhan o wead ein hysgol, yn fwy ymarferol i bob defnyddiwr ac yn helpu ein plant i ddod yn ddysgwyr uchelgeisiol. Byddwn yn sicrhau bod ein plant yn dod yn ddysgwyr uchelgeisiol. yn fwyfwy cyfarwydd â'n fframwaith ac yn magu hyder wrth ddefnyddio'r eirfa o ddydd i ddydd. Bydd datblygu annibyniaeth plant trwy ein meysydd dysgu a darpariaeth well yn flaenoriaeth arall i sicrhau cysondeb mewn dulliau a safonau ar draws Camau Cynnydd 1 a 2 i ddarparu cyfleoedd cyfoethog ac amrywiol i ddisgyblion hwyluso ac ymgorffori eu sgiliau. Bydd hyn yn rhoi mwy o ddewis i blant yn yr ystafell ddosbarth ac yn eu helpu i fod yn fwy angerddol am eu dysgu. Byddwn yn sicrhau ein bod yn darparu cyfleoedd i blant ddatblygu'n greadigol trwy gyfleoedd dysgu ystyrlon a dilyn.

Following our recent successful Estyn inspection in 2023, our school is constantly seeking to self-improve and develop strengths into sector leading practice and weaknesses into good practice. As such, one of our foci for the 2024-2025 academic year will be to further develop children's independence. We will further develop our bespoke independence framework and continue to develop a matrix that is increasingly more part of the fabric of our school, more functional for all users and helps our children to become ambitious learners.. We will ensure that our children become ever-increasingly familiar with our framework and will gain confidence whilst using the vocabulary on a day to day basis. Developing children's independence through our learning areas and enhanced provision will be another priority to ensure consistency in approaches and standards across Progress Step 1 and 2 to provide rich and varied opportunities for pupils to facilitate and embed their skills. This will give children more choice within the classroom and help them become more fired-up about their learning. We will ensure to provide opportunities for children to develop creatively through meaningful and authentic learning opportunities.

1. Further embed the use of our bespoke independence framework in order to support children's resilience, working together, curiosity, resourcefulness, effort and self-awareness.	1.1. Review and refine the Independence Framework. Before embedding the framework further, it is important to ensure that it is well-understood, relevant, and easily accessible. Organise a meeting with the Independence Task Force and curriculum leaders to review the current framework. Refine language and examples to ensure they are age-appropriate and aligned with school values. Circulate the updated framework to teaching and support staff for feedback on how effectively it is being used in the classroom. Gather examples of best practice and areas that require additional support. Update all framework materials to reflect the latest version. Develop resources that make the framework easily accessible to both staff and children,, such as posters for classrooms, simplified versions for younger children.	1.1. Children to use the correct vocabulary and use the framework directly within their work to show they are familiar with the framework. The framework is reviewed and aligned with current curriculum goals. Staff feedback is collected and incorporated into revisions. Updated materials are distributed and understood by all staff members. The framework is clearly linked to curriculum plans and displayed in lesson plans. Teachers consistently reference the framework in their lessons. Projects and thematic activities explicitly promote the development of these key skills.	1.1. Elin Johnson and the Independence Task Force	1.1. One day release time for EJ and Independence Framework	1.1. Whole staff input has now produced a refined version of the Welsh framework which conveys the same content but simplifies the language. In relation to their development and understanding, almost all of the pupils have the opportunity to work independently and together with peers. As last time, this was seen across the Progress Steps through examples of work and was seen using the Design Thinking Continuum in Science and through the use of Philosophy for Children sessions. The evaluations of baseline assessments, also reviewed as part of this evidence review, shows that children are less independent coming into the school and that good improvements have already been made over the first half term – especially as a result of the evidence of the impact of initial changes to provision areas within	1.1. Welsh and English frameworks have been simplified and are now being embedded through all foundation phases. Pupils in Progress Step 1 use the independence framework in their learning objectives to complete a task and Progress Step 2 and 3 have developed their Learning Objectives to ensure consistency and progress across all age groups.	1.1. Evaluation of the impact of the independence framework shows that pupils are receiving more opportunities to develop their independence and are utilising the framework within lessons well. This is clear in nearly all classes. The revised version of the framework is proving to be much easier for pupils to understand and is helping self-evaluation skills.

					the classes. In relation to their development and understanding, pupils are beginning to take increasingly successful approaches to self-evaluation, identifying the next steps in learning. When using the school's 'Independence Framework', many take more responsibility for their own learning by expressing their strengths and areas for improvement. However, Progress Stage 3 is now going to look at simplifying their recording of the 'Independence Framework' in books. Most of the pupils respond effectively to feedback, addressing any learning gaps and where appropriate for development, doing this independently. Almost all of the pupils are confident using the marking code. In most classes, it was seen that checking in green was used as a consistent method and the children do so confidently. There is improvement in the necessity to ensure that the checking in green is

	1.2. A well-prepared staff team is essential for the successful embedding of the framework. Conduct in-depth training sessions for teachers and support staff, focusing on practical ways to integrate the framework into everyday lessons. Assign time during staff meetings for teachers to share experiences and discuss how to incorporate the framework in different subjects. Encourage staff to explicitly model behaviours associated with the framework, such as demonstrating resilience, curiosity, and resourcefulness when problem-solving or teaching. Implement peer coaching where experienced teachers who are effectively using the framework support colleagues who may need guidance. Training course held for staff on the basis of independence within childhood development. This was a whole day inset training. Staff meetings have also been allocated to further develop the framework and simplify the Welsh language. It was seen, during lesson observations, that the pupils engage with new, unfamiliar experiences and ideas and participate readily and complete tasks in almost every single class. Within most of the classes, learners appropriately maintain focus and avoid distractions and persevere or look for new solutions when faced with difficulties in age-appropriate ways. Good support is given to the very few learners who	1.2. During lesson observations, the Annibyniaeth framework is observed consistently (age appropriately) across all classes, fostering increasing levels of collaboration and cooperation. Pupils demonstrate improved interpersonal, leadership, and social skills while showing respect for others. They also exhibited growing capabilities in research, discussion, analysis, and presentation, with some independently selecting methods. To advance, learners could be encouraged to take on specific team roles, such as leader or timekeeper. Lesson observations and pupil focus groups showed that the independence framework is being used in all classes and effectively in nearly all. Where this works best is where staff consistently model independence and highlight independence foci verbally as they model. We now want to see less worksheet orientated learning to further increase the effectiveness of this priority as we move to next year's development plan. Staff in Progress Step 1 in particular have been supported by TS in improving more opportunities for choice, independent learning and kinesthetic authentic experiences. The school's 'Independence Framework' was seen being used in all classes across the school and, in most classes, being used effectively in order to have a positive impact on learning. Progress Step 3 is now going to be looking at a better way of self-recording and self-assessment towards the elements of the framework. In most classes, the learning environment effectively supported children's independent or collaborative learning. The next step is to monitor the use of the independence poster while conducting learning walks and classroom monitoring. Scrutiny of teaching by SLT and SIP have shown: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -Setting Clear Expectations: Improvement in outlining tasks and goals helps learners understand what is expected of them. -Providing More Choices: Allowing children to make 	environments to support and extend independent learning while encouraging collaboration. Staff promoted independence effectively, using strategies like "3 before me," and clear structures and discipline facilitated the correct and independent use of spaces. Effective use of resources supported challenge and extended learning. Across the stages, pupils showed emotional intelligence and self-awareness, gaining confidence and independence. Most learners engaged readily with new and unfamiliar experiences, completing tasks in nearly every class. Support was provided to those with medical or additional needs to help them focus. Overall, the learning environment successfully encouraged independent and collaborative learning, fostering pupils' development in self-confidence and the ability to work both autonomously and in teams.	way from September..

For the framework to truly be embedded, learners must understand and engage with it personally. Hold assemblies to launch revised version of the independence framework, breaking it down for different Progress Steps and explaining its purpose. Early indicators show a quantifiable rise in pupil autonomy. On a scale of 0-5, schools rated their staff knowledge of children's independence as an average of 2.11. However, after training, the average rating was 4.33. Schools have embraced flexibility, either adapting the framework to meet their specific needs or adopting it outright. Develop a system to track and present evidence of continuous and enhanced provision in Progress Step 1 and 2.	2.1. To effectively track and present evidence of continuous and enhanced provision for Progress Step 1 and 2, a structured system will be implemented to document children's learning, independence, and development. For Progress Step 1, scrapbooks titled "Llyfr Llawen" will be created to capture children's use of the provision areas and highlight their growing independence. These scrapbooks will serve as dynamic, visual records of each child's progress through a variety of formats. In "Llyfr Llawen", evidence will be gathered through pictures, independent work, and quotes taken from the children themselves, when relevant. The intention is to document authentic moments where children engage with the learning environment and demonstrate their autonomy. This qualitative approach will create a rich, child-centred narrative that emphasises individual growth and engagement. As the children transition into Progress	2.1. Success in improving the quality of provision areas in Progress Step 2 classes will be measured by the development of engaging, stimulating environments that foster independent and creative learning. The provision areas must be well-organised, inviting, and clearly defined, offering diverse resources that cater to pupils' interests and developmental needs. Each area should encourage exploration, problem-solving, and imaginative play, providing hands-on materials that promote curiosity and critical thinking. Following our recent successful Estyn inspection in 2023, our school is constantly seeking to self-improve and develop strengths into sector leading practice and weaknesses into good practice. As such, one of our foci for the 2024-2025 academic year will be to provide rich and meaningful oracy experiences by building on our recent achievement with our Philosophy for Children award. This will aid us in achieving the Gold Award which will help us to continue to innovate in teaching thinking skills. Pupil voice has played an important part in our journey for excellence and focusing on improving higher order skills in literacy further embeds our four purposes of creating ambitious, creative and fired-up learners. Children will be encouraged to develop their oracy skills through various authentic experiences and project based collaborative opportunities. Exciting and inspiring reading materials will ensure that learners develop their comprehension skills whilst developing their analysis of reading texts. This will successfully build on their love for reading that we have developed so well whilst continuing to build on extending their vocabulary and their understanding of more complex narratives and texts.

This has been an exciting venture but has been very hard to get up and running due to a few false starts with the new Darllen Co system. However, all learners have been introduced to the new website during reading time and morning activities and have been taught how to navigate and set up their account. All children in Progress Step 3 have got their own chrome books and children in Progress Step 2 use the iPads to login using their Hwb logins to ensure ease and efficiency. Most pupils in Progress Step 3 are confident in logging on and navigating the website along with creating profiles and choosing their favourite books. The system has a few minor elements that still being worked on (e.g. the quiz sections). This will be further introduced for a hard launch in January.	1.1. Darllen Co is now up and running effectively in most classrooms in Progress Step 2 and 3. Most pupils in Progress Step 3 are confident in logging on and navigating the website along with creating profiles and choosing their favourite books. Sut fydd y targed yn helpu ni wreiddio a byw ein gwerthoedd yn well? /
How will this target help us to root our values and live them out better?

Yn dilyn ein harolygiad Estyn llwyddiannus diweddar yn 2023, mae ein hysgol yn gyson yn ceisio hunan-wella a datblygu cryfderau yn arfer sy'n arwain y sector a gwendidau mewn i arfer dda. O'r herwydd, un o'n ffocws ar gyfer blwyddyn academaidd 2024-2025 fydd datblygu ein cymhwysedd digidol ymhellach ar draws yr ysgol gyfan, gan ganolbwyntio ar ddarparu cyfleoedd i weithio ar y cyd ac yn annibynnol trwy gynllunio effeithiol, gan ddarparu cyfleoedd ymarferol i ddefnyddio gwahanol dechnolegau, datblygu'r defnydd o apiau a llwyfannau digidol fel Google Classroom a SeeSaw ymhellach a chyflwyno Deallusrwydd Artiffisial fel rhan naturiol o ddysgu yn yr ystafell ddosbarth. Mae deallusrwydd artiffisial yn ddod yn rhan o'n byd ac mae angen i ni baratoi ein plant ar ei gyfer i fod yn rhan o ddiwylliant bob dydd. O'r herwydd, byddwn yn darparu cyfleoedd dysgu ac hyfforddiant sy'n cwmpasu saith maes gwahanol: dibenion AI, sicrhau cydymffurfiaeth, hyrwyddo gwybodaeth am lythrennedd deallusrwydd artiffisial, addysgu cydbwysedd trwy edrych ar fanteision a risgiau AI, uniondeb wrth ddefnyddio AI, pwysleisio cynnal penderfyniadau dynol wrth ddefnyddio AI, a gwerthuso'r defnydd o AI. Bydd hyn yn ein helpu i fyw yn llwyr ddiwylliant ysgol lle rydym yn angerddol ac yn awyddus i sicrhau ein bod yn ymgysylltu â phlant i fod yn ddysgwyr gydol oes mewn byd cynyddol ddigidol. Mae annog ein dysgwyr i ymgysylltu'n annibynnol ac fel grŵp ar y cyd yn cefnogi ein diwylliant o fod yn deulu ymhellach a bydd hyn yn datblygu ac yn ymgorffori ymhellach sgiliau gweithio cydweithredol, gan gynnwys cyfathrebu digidol ac ymdrechion cydweithredol.

Following our recent successful Estyn inspection in 2023, our school is constantly seeking to self-improve and develop strengths into sector leading practice and weaknesses into good practice. As such, one of our foci for the 2024-2025 academic year will be to further develop our digital competency across the whole school, focusing on providing opportunities to work both collaboratively and independently through effective planning, providing practical opportunities to use different technologies, further developing the use of apps and digital platforms such as Google Classroom and SeeSaw and the introduction of Artificial Intelligence as a natural part of classroom learning. Artificial intelligence is fast becoming part of our world and we need to prepare our children for it to be a part of everyday culture. As such, we will provide learning and training opportunities that cover seven different areas: the purposes of AI, ensuring compliance, promoting knowledge of AI literacy, teaching balance though looking at the benefits and risks of AI, integrity when using AI, agency to maintain human decision when using AI, and evaluating the use of AI. This will help us fully live out a school culture where we are fired-up and eager to ensure that we are engaging children to be lifelong learners in an increasingly digital world. Encouraging our learners to engage independently and as a collective further supports our culture of being a family and this will develop and further embed co-operative working skills, including digital communication and collaborative efforts.

1.We will establish a partnership with University of South Wales to increase digital independent and collaborative task opportunities.	1.1. Contact and arrange series of digital workshops with University of South Wales to be delivered within Progress Step 3 classes. This will allow teachers to observe and then deliver collaborative tasks by utilising good practise and pedagogy.	1.1 Initiate contact and schedule meetings with university representatives. Share time table of digital workshop sessions to be undertaken by the University of South Wales with all Progress Step 3 classes. Ensure that digital learning tasks developed through the partnership align with the national curriculum and the pupils' development areas. Tasks should foster critical thinking, problem-solving, and creativity in children while supporting literacy, numeracy, and STEM subjects. Digital tasks and tools provided through the partnership should be age-appropriate, engaging, and stimulating for our children. Resources should include a balance of independent work and opportunities for collaborative learning. Provide continuous professional development for teachers on using digital platforms and tools effectively in both independent and collaborative settings. Success would involve improved teacher confidence and competence in integrating digital learning tools. Success would include children demonstrating higher levels of proficiency in digital research, presentations, and collaborative tasks. Monitor the effect of digital tasks on pupil engagement and academic achievement, comparing performance metrics before and after	1.1. Tanwen Davies/Kaysha Wulder	1.1. £500 bus costs.	1.1. University of South Wales have been contacted and sessions have been allocated for Years 4-6 in Term 2 both in school, virtually and in USW. There has also been a session scheduled with digital leads within the school. Timetable of workshops has been created and shared with relevant staff and sessions allocated within purple planning. STEM sessions have been planned and delivered through PS3 "ice kingdom theme, including building 3D models of the Titanic, coding on Scratch. PS1 have used beebots to code during their "Beth nesaf" topic. Through successful application of the Edina Grant the science and innovation team have ordered more lego education equipment to further increase capacity in using STEM resources. All staff have received adobe AI training across the areas	1.1. We have worked in partnership with the University of South Wales and NDEC to deliver units of work focused on safety and security online and cybersecurity. These sessions were particularly successful in engaging children with new elements of digital technology and safety using problem solving skills. A session has also been undertaken with digital leads within the school. Lego education (Spike and Bricq) has been mapped to coincide with our thematic planning across PS2 and 3 and this has been undertaken by classes. Peer training has been particularly successful as it has meant that the team are working closer to develop and deliver units of work rather than one-off lessons in this subject.	1.1. Following on from work with University of South Wales we have utilised collaborative tasks within purple planning using digital technology, for example writing a blog in PS3 and PS2 & 3 collaborative lesson on hand hygiene. Lego Education has been undertaken by PS2 and 3 classes during "diwrnodau sbardun" and further suitable lessons have been mapped out according to our three year thematic planning..

	1.2. Integrate university expertise into School Curriculum by developing resources to be used to target digital independence. Create our own scheme of work to be used in our future planning in different topics to embed good practise and pedagogy across the curriculum.	1.2. Identify and select relevant digital resources to be used in sessions independently by children utilising Google Classroom and Seesaw. Develop digital task modules and collaborative projects for various subjects and pilot these modules in classes. Monitor and support pupil participation and engagement by collecting and analysing pupil feedback and performance data.	1.2. Progress Step leader and Catrin Wallis-Evans	1.2. 2 Days Release Time	1.2. Google classroom and Seesaw are used consistently across the school, this is apparent in purple planning as observed during book looks and lesson observations during the term. Pupils digital leaders have met to participate in a lunch time club and have worked alongside Catrin Wallis-Evans to share. The university project information will be added to our curriculum after the sessions conclude with USW in the new calendar year.	1.2. We have worked in partnership with the University of South Wales and NDEC to deliver units of work focused on safety and security online and cybersecurity. These sessions were particularly successful in engaging children with new elements of digital technology and safety using problem solving skills. A session has also been undertaken with digital leads within the school. Training has been given in order that teaching staff can now integrate similar projects within purple planning across different topics.	1.2. Digital wizards have prepared and presented a whole school assembly to highlight the elements following on from the NDEC workshops. Resources from NDEC workshops are shared in the planning folder to be adapted for the next academic year to coincide with new topics.
	1.3. Enhance teachers' skills in using digital tools and facilitating collaborative tasks by sharing programme of work with teaching staff to utilise strategies to develop children's digital independence and collaborative task opportunities on the classroom floor.	1.3. They created animations using Meta Demo Lab and collaborated through Google Classroom, with one class co-writing monologues before progressing to independent tasks, showcasing creativity and self-sufficiency. At Cam Cynnydd 2, learners demonstrated notable advancements in using ICT tools, such as Tric a Chlic and Seesaw, to reinforce their understanding of numeracy and literacy, while at Cam Cynnydd 1, foundational skills were developed through age-appropriate tools like interactive screen games and purposeful apps. These activities promoted teamwork, typing proficiency, and problem-solving. The introduction of platforms such as SeeSaw encouraged pupils to independently upload their work, fostering future autonomy.

The lessons observed show that learners have a good grasp of digital competence skills. There is good progress especially in the increase of independent and collaborative digital task opportunities by creating films, creating vlogs, using different software. Observations showed more exploration of the use of artificial intelligence (AI) and many learning opportunities were seen following our training which covered seven different areas.

The first half term of the year was really dedicated to teaching around safety and AI before branching out. As you might expect, AI is easier to teach at older ages – however, Progress Step 1 and 2 have been using the Adobe software and simple apps for generative purposes (such as drawing a character from a book and then using AI to animate it). We feel that we are making good progress towards this target and are comfortable that we will meet the target. We have reached a good balance where AI is not taking over creativity.	fostering confidence in applying digital tools beyond ICT-specific tasks. Through book looks and planning, a balanced approach to AI use has been observed, complementing traditional learning methods. AI supports analytical thinking across all six Areas of Learning and Experience, enriching subjects from humanities to expressive arts. However, we have also focused on when not to use AI and the appropriateness of refraining use of AI. Further focus will be placed on real-world applications, ethical AI considerations, and creative engagement. AI literacy continues to evolve, positioning pupils as responsible, informed digital citizens prepared for an increasingly AI-driven future.

Success in meeting this target will see our children gaining a foundational understanding of AI concepts, such as how machines learn from data, make predictions, and assist with tasks. Pupils will be able to interact with AI tools confidently, using age-appropriate platforms, and understand the ethical considerations, limitations, and potential of AI. They will demonstrate AI literacy through hands-on projects, class discussions, and practical applications in collaborative and independent learning settings. Success will also include improved problem-solving skills, critical thinking, and a curiosity-driven approach toward exploring AI technologies responsibly and creatively.	2.4. TD, CWE and All Teaching Staff	2.4. PPA time for teachers.	2.4. AI is starting to become apparent in purple planning as observed in lessons during the Term. We feel that we are making good progress towards this target and are comfortable that we will meet the target. We have reached a good balance where AI is not taking over creativity.	2.4. AI is embedded appropriately in purple planning. The successful implementation of this AI literacy initiative has resulted in pupils gaining a strong foundational understanding of AI concepts, including how machines learn, make predictions, and assist with tasks. Through interactive learning experiences, they have developed confidence in engaging with age-appropriate AI tools while recognising ethical considerations and limitations. The blend of

	2.5. Help pupils recognise both the advantages and potential risks of AI technology.	2.5. Success will be achieved when our children demonstrate a clear understanding of AI technology, including its benefits and risks. Pupils will be able to identify practical advantages, such as AI's role in assisting with tasks and improving learning experiences, while also recognising potential dangers like cyberbullying, misinformation, and fake news. They will develop critical thinking skills to evaluate online content, understand how AI can be misused, and apply digital literacy strategies to stay safe. Furthermore, they will engage in discussions about online ethics and demonstrate responsible behaviour when interacting with AI-based platforms and technologies. Pupils will confidently participate in discussions and debates about AI's role in society. and pupils will demonstrate critical thinking by considering both sides of AI's impact.	2.5. TD, CWE and All Teaching Staff	2.5. PPA time for teachers.	2.5. The staff are starting to use their artificial intelligence training in order to design quality lessons. Staff have been continuing to draw on their artificial intelligence training in order to design quality lessons, this has been observed whilst monitoring learning, planning and teaching. They will exhibit the ability to critically evaluate AI-generated content, questioning its reliability and truthfulness. Classroom activities should reflect their learning, with pupils creating projects or presentations that highlight the importance of using AI tools ethically. Additionally, children will show an increased awareness of privacy and data security, demonstrating respect for others' information. Teachers will observe improved pupil engagement in discussions about AI ethics and responsible behaviour, indicating a solid grasp of these concepts. Success will also be evident through pupils' application of these principles in their digital interactions and collaborative tasks. Pupils pledge to use AI ethically and responsibly.			of learning. Through project work and activities, pupils will show they can effectively balance AI assistance with their own critical thinking and decision-making skills. Additionally, teachers will observe pupils applying these principles in their digital tasks, making thoughtful choices that reflect an understanding of the importance of human control over AI technologies.			and teaching over the coming years.	regular discussion and work around understanding the purposes of AI, ensuring compliance, promoting AI knowledge, balancing the benefits and risks of AI, maintaining integrity, preserving human agency in decision-making, and evaluating AI's impact.	agency in decision-making, and evaluating AI's impact. Most pupils have continued to demonstrate agency by making informed choices in AI-supported tasks, and can articulate reasons for following or overriding AI decisions when participating in philosophical discussions around the topic.
3. Through effective planning we will improve our use of Google Classroom, Seesaw and AI in our day to day practice to ensure digital literacy has a cross-curricular focus and is a natural part of classroom learning.	3.1. Ensure all classrooms have more regular access to Seesaw , and Progress Step 3 to Google Classroom . All children have age appropriate access to both platforms and AI tools . Create a resource bank with guidelines and examples for using each tool in different subjects.	3.1. All staff will plan lessons to utilise best use of Seesaw and Google Classroom cross-curricularly. Children will use Seesaw and Google Classroom more regularly and more confidently across the curriculum developing their stage appropriate digital skills through these platforms. Provide support for teachers to integrate these tools into their lesson plans.	3.1. TD, CWE and All Teaching Staff	3.1. PPA time for teachers. Half Day release to prepare training for staff.	3.1. Google classroom and seesaw are used consistently across the school as observed during book looks and lesson observations during the term. The allocation of Chromebooks to Years 4-6 either 1:1 or 1:2 has supported this significantly.	3.1. AI tools have been shared with staff during training sessions, staff have been researching age appropriate tools appraised by Welsh Government to include in purple planning to support learning experiences in different subjects. Resources are shared within progress steps and across the AoLEs.	3.1. AI tools that have been shared with staff over the academic year have been used in purple planning across the AoLE's. Staff have been embedding these technologies into planning to provide a balanced use of AI tools across the curriculum.

We will have organised workshops and training sessions on Google Classroom, Seesaw, and AI. Develop and distribute instructional materials and best practice guides. Offer ongoing support through coaching and troubleshooting sessions. Purple planning will show that digital literacy is being embedded more in a cross-curricular fashion after teaching skills using a discrete method before in-context method.	3.3. Progress Step Leaders	3.3. Regular termly monitoring of planning – designated and timetabled SLT management time.	3.3. All teaching staff have been allocated professional development target linked with AI. Training has been offered through Adobe Education. More training will be held in the Spring and Summer term. Our 'DyfodolFuture Conference' has been designed to look at AI as part of its keynote address (in April) with Professor Gary Beauchamp leading sessions.	3.3. Teachers who require further support have signed up to additional sessions on AI, specifically in our Dyfodol Conference and through ASPE. All teaching staff evaluated AI development as part of their professional development review and have set further personal targets on improvement. We have reached a good balance where AI is not taking over creativity.	3.3. Further support has been shared with staff in regards to age appropriate apps and expectations through AoLE team project, with a matrix shared outlining expectation from PS1 to PS3.

Following our recent successful Estyn inspection in 2023, our school is constantly seeking to self-improve and develop strengths into sector leading practice and weaknesses into good practice. As such, one of our foci for the 2024-2025 academic year will be to ensure all members of staff are confident in providing support to all our additional learning needs pupils, by providing training aimed at meeting the needs of our complex and highly complex pupils. We want to further embed our four purposes and the culture of family, by providing all pupils with access to the curriculum and to celebrate the individual progress of each learner. We will refine our intervention procedures and ensure we are providing the pupils with the essential support and intervention strategies in order to develop all pupils to be ambitious and fired up learners. Inclusion and support for all children's needs is important to us. As such, we want to develop an innovative additional learning needs class that is resourced and staffed well to improve our support of pupils with bespoke curricula and learning needs.

1. Improve and further develop our Additional Needs Provision to ensure that we are able to provide further support to pupils identified as Complex or Highly Complex by developing a small class provision in order to provide a bespoke curriculum as a part of our ALN Provision.	1.1. Improve the staff knowledge by observing good practice in established settings.	1.1. All staff will have a deeper understanding of specific learning support interventions and teaching staff will understand how to plan and meet individual needs within mainstream classes. A group of teachers and support staff have received training with Speech and Language on Gestalt learning processing which supports our highly complex individuals in school. In addition to this whole staff have also received a training session on Gestalt language processing. Yr Academi staff have received training with Hanen Teaching Talking strategies and have linked with Bro Teyrnnon and SenCom to support each other.	1.1. Staff at Yr Academi have made further links with specialist placement settings such as Pen y Garn site in order to support facilitating appropriate assessment of pupils who have been identified as ALN. This practice has been shared with school ALNCO to further develop assessment of ALN pupils currently in the mainstream to support developing bespoke curriculum.	1.1. Staff at Yr Academi have attended the Hanen A and B teacher talking course and have used strategies within the Yr Academi setting. Kaysha has also given training on these strategies to Progress Step 1 and 2 staff in order to support consistency between Yr Academi and mainstream class settings. Partnership with Crownbridge has supported us improving the quality of the provision.

All pupils accessing Yr Academi have One Page Profiles completed in consultation with parents and external agencies as appropriate. IDPs are in place for the majority of pupils accessing Yr Academi and further IDPs are in the process of being reviewed and developed for the remaining pupils.	1.3. IDPs have been finalised and additional pupils accessing Yr Academi are being assessed against the entry criteria. Additional assessments have been completed for pupils who have accessed Yr Academi as a transitional period. PCP meetings have been arranged with families of new pupils accessing Yr Academi to discuss their progress and future steps.	1.3. All pupils accessing Yr Academi have been assessed against the entry criteria and have completed additional assessments such as Communication screening tools in order for some pupils to further develop communication. All families of pupils attending Yr Academi have been involved in PCP meetings to discuss progress and future steps. This is fully established as a process. It is likely that we will have to further adapt as revisions to the ALN code, which we expect across the next year, are embedded.

Due to the lack of development in providing a designated area of the school to hold Yr Academi, the vision is not fully realised. Problems around the building project's funding and tender process has hindered the progress. We have learnt a number of lessons with this element - however, we are currently focusing on providing the best provision we can within the confines of not having the ideal designated space. It is unlikely that we will have the provision's space before September if the ALN Capital Grant Funding bid is won. IDP targets are being met through the very focused nature of Yr Academi's provision.	1.5a. The pupils at Yr Academi continue to make progress against their individual targets. The increased level of differentiation and continuous assessment continues to support attainment against their individual targets. Yr Academi staff have provided additional support to pupils in mainstream settings, daily to further develop basic skills such as reading and spellings. Analysis of work shows good progress for all pupils supported through Yr Academi. Positive parental satisfaction is evident through discussions and PCP meetings. Children where behavioural needs were identified alongside their academic development have shown good signs of improvement with a significant reduction in the amount of time they spend dysregulated. This will be a continual support focus for these pupils. Attendance rates have improved for these children. Good progress has been made for each pupil against their IDP

Rationale and Overview of Our Proposal

At Ysgol Panteg, we place pupils at the heart of everything we plan for and do, to ensure that they leave our school with the confidence to thrive in life. We understand our pupils' additional learning needs and pride ourselves on getting to know our children well. It is our mission to ensure that we support children with the best provision possible to succeed. We encourage all of our pupils to become kind, fired-up, ambitious, compassionate, resilient individuals. Inclusion is key to our school and we want to further live out our value of being a family. We recognise that we could do this better through restructuring our learning provisions. This is why we are developing a special class as a further layer of support for children as part of our additional learning needs graduated response. The name of this class will be 'Yr Academi'.

Special classes are part of a continuum of educational provision that enables children with more complex additional learning needs to be educated within our mainstream schools. They offer a supportive learning environment to children who are unable (or find it extremely difficult) to access the curriculum in a mainstream class, even with support.

We foresee this provision being a bespoke curriculum learning environment for a maximum of 12 pupils led by experienced and specialist staff. Access for the unit will be for children from Year 2 to Year 6.

The best guidance from both the Welsh Government and UK research states that children enrolled in special classes should be included in mainstream classes at timetabled points of the day in line with their abilities. Therefore, we propose a half day of specialist provision and rejoining classes for lessons which are appropriate and accessible. This will ensure that children do not become isolated and maintain friendships and other social connections.

The development of this provision will require the school to invest in modifying the building for the creation of a fit-for-purpose learning environment. It will require adequately resourcing with adaptive furniture and assistive technology. It will also require inclusion on our staffing structure, ongoing budget allocation and monitoring and planned professional learning.

What are the Current Obstacles and Issues?

The numbers of children with additional learning needs in our school and arriving at our school has increased significantly over the last three years. Most of the 'complex' additional learning needs we come across can be supported through universal or targeted support. However, in the last year, the number of children registering as 'highly complex' has grown exponentially from 2 pupil to 6 pupils. We are also expecting another 2 'highly complex' to arrive in September. Highly complex needs ranging from social communication needs to severe sensory needs are becoming more prevalent and they are extremely hard to support in classes due to most highly complex children requiring a bespoke curriculum. The current model of support for these pupils is that they are given allocated hours of time as per their individual development planning (or, in one case, their statement). However, this means that their support is being met with dip-in additional staff and the class teacher supporting. Yr Academi would provide a bespoke curriculum and a designated environment for these children's learning allowing for their support to be more consistent and honed. This would also help to minimise disruption for other learners. In our opinion, the establishing of Yr Academi would make good steps towards being more proactive and requiring less reactive actions to support children.

Vision

We aim for every child to experience an amazing educational experience, whilst at Ysgol Panteg. Launching 'Yr Academi' will help us to improve our ability to:

- Provide a safe, secure and specialist environment, which allows children to work at their own pace, have fun and enjoy themselves. Enable them to develop a love for learning and ensure that it is a key priority that all of our children are happy at school.
- Provide a flexible, practical, personalised approach to our curriculum with emphasis on: core communication skills, wellbeing and life skills for independence, interactions to build relationships, cognition and learning skills to believe in themselves.
- Ensure the curriculum intent, implementation & impact are embedded across all subjects and all pupils, irrelevant of their additional learning needs.
- Ensure that all pupils are challenged to reach their full potential and no child is left behind.
- Ensure that our pupils' individualised development plans are current, appropriate, and progressive.
- Develop lessons, experiences and opportunities, which explore and develop, creating additional literacy and numeracy opportunities and development.
- Grow our environment making sure it is reflective of our policies and practices.
- Strengthen relationships with children, staff and families established by nurture, trust, challenge and mutual respect.
- Grow pupils voice ensuring it is active, valued and embedded as our democratic culture, especially in regard to own educational journeys and aspirations.
- Ensure we develop our learning and wellbeing provision, where our offer is an integral part of the learner's journey.
- Strengthen collaboration and shared activities, training and practices with other schools locally, and nationally.

Through 'Yr Academi', children will:

- Be encouraged to engage in a variety of activities and experiences to promote their progress, improve their participation and attendance and make the necessary changes to engage in their own education. They can achieve and will!
- Experience consistent boundaries and positive behaviour management with trained staff through carefully planned strategies.
- Believe in themselves, value others and respect their school community.
- Be able to set themselves realistic goals, and targets. Especially in their annual reviews and professional meetings.
- Understand that we believe that they can improve, and we aim to help them believe this.
- Develop a sense of pride in themselves, their work and being part of 'The Panteg Family'.
- Go on to become life-long learners and thrive.

Key Responsibilities

'Yr Academi' would be run and managed by Ysgol Panteg and under our main school budget. The Headteacher would have responsibility for the setting and, as with all other aspects of the life of Ysgol Panteg, would report to Governors on developments, successes and challenges.

An experienced teacher would be allocated with support from a teaching assistant. These members of staff would work in conjunction with the Additional Learning Needs Co-Ordinator and Deputy Additional Learning Needs Co-Ordinator.

Impact: What Will Success Look Like?

1. Pupil Progress: Significant improvement in pupils' academic performance.
2. Parental Satisfaction: Positive feedback from parents regarding their child's progress and support.
3. Behavioural Improvements: Noticeable reduction in behavioural issues.
4. Attendance Rates: High attendance rates in the ALN class.
5. Engagement Levels: Increased pupil engagement and participation within tasks and classroom with appropriate shorter activities.
6. Staff Feedback: Positive feedback from whole staff regarding the support and resources provided.
7. Integration Activities: Successful inclusion of ALN Pupils in mainstream activities where appropriate.
8. Peer Relationships: Improved social interactions and relationships among peers.
9. Pupil Self-Esteem: Enhanced self-esteem and confidence in pupils.
10. IDP Goals: Achievement of more challenging IDP goals for each pupil as a result of additional support.
11. Support Services: More effective collaboration with support services such as speech therapists and counsellors.
12. Pupil Retention: High retention rates of pupils. Reduce drop out rate to other schools with ALN classes.
13. Pupil Independence: Increased levels of pupil independence and self-management.
14. Extra-Curricular Participation: More participation of ALN Pupils in extra-curricular activities.
15. Pupil Wellbeing: Positive impact on pupils' emotional and mental wellbeing.
16. Inclusion Policies: Improved school-wide policies that support and promote inclusion that are Trauma Informed Schools friendly.
17. Future Readiness: Preparation of pupils for future educational and/or vocational opportunities.

SWOT Analysis

Current Strengths	Current Weaknesses
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The school recognises individual's additional learning needs and knows each of our children well. The school has a designated team for additional learning needs, wellbeing support with deputies for each of these roles. The diagnostic team is fully set up to complete assessments to aid decision making with regards to the suitability of 'Yr Academi' for individual classes. Additional learning and wellbeing provision are a particular strength in the school as highlighted by Estyn due to its coverage and the culture of continuous improvement. The school works well with external agencies and with Torfaen specialists (such as Outreach and the Educational Psychology Department). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We have a number of children who are finding mainstream class work more difficult and we are timetabling more time in smaller groups for specialist curriculum support (through intervention programmes such as 'Teaching Early Numeracy to Children with Developmental Difficulties'). This is requiring more time outside of class for individuals. The school is a very busy place and there is no dedicated teaching space designated for children with complex or highly complex needs. The cost of the current model of supporting children has included two additional teachers as well as additional staffing for 1:1 allocated time. This cost is high and, although it has reached the needs of many through the use of our surplus and though government post-Covid grants, it will not be sustainable moving forward. 1:1 allocated time is extremely expensive and most children with additional learning needs need shorter bouts of activity and concentration rather than continual support. We have more children requiring significant additional needs provisions than ever before. This is a rising trend across the authority and across the nation. This is becoming increasingly harder to manage especially for complex and highly complex children within the mainstream setting.
Opportunities for Development	Threats, Risks and Mitigations
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We have an unutilised space that would simply need adapting to fit the needs for 'Yr Academi'. We have staff with a specialism in additional learning needs who can fulfil the roles within 'Yr Academi'. We need to develop staff further for specialist teaching and support because we know the range of needs we are seeing (especially in the early years) is increasing drastically. 'Yr Academi' could be a method by which to form a centre of excellence and when established provide training to other teachers at Ysgol Panteg and cluster schools. We see the creation of 'Yr Academi' as a method of further promoting our school in the community and maintain/improve numbers for Reception and Nursery. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The cost of a teacher and teaching assistant moving forward needs to be factored into the budget. If we utilise internal skilled individuals for these roles we can allocate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Teacher: 0.5 for 'Yr Academi', 0.1 for planning, preparation and assessment and 0.4 for covering other teachers' planning, preparation and assessment time. HLTA: 0.5 for 'Yr Academi', and 0.5 for covering teachers' planning, preparation and assessment time. We would utilise a percentage of our surplus in creating a learning space that if budget cuts come could mean that we cannot afford to keep the provision open and leaving the space defunct. We can mitigate against this by utilising grant funding (where appropriate), utilising planning, preparation and assessment time cover as part of the equation, and allocating the finance allocated for children with complex and highly complex needs (providing they are attending the provision, of course). More children require the additional learning provision through 'Yr Academi' due to its success, word of mouth and transfers to our school. The matrix contained in this document is used as a scoring tool (entry and exit criteria) to ensure the top priority needs are addressed. Should more highly complex children begin at Ysgol Panteg, their funding and support can be allocated and should a significant number join it might be viable to open 'Yr Academi' in the afternoons too.

Entry and Exit Criteria

Access to 'Yr Academi' would be through a period of consultation with the child's family and a points-based system formulated by looking at barriers to learning. Each child entering 'Yr Academi' will have an individual development plan or one-page profile written in conjunction with the family and relevant external agencies. These children may have many different needs or a more specific need:

- Children with speech, language and communication needs have difficulty in communicating with others. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives. This area includes those children and young people with an autistic spectrum disorder who also are likely to have difficulties with social interaction, and with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.
- Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs which include a complex learning difficulties and highly complex learning difficulties where children are likely to need support in most or all areas of the curriculum. Children with multiple needs are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment. This range of needs also includes specific learning difficulties (SpLD) which encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.
- Children may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties. Children may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.
- Some children require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided in a mainstream setting. This includes pupils with visual impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) who require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning.

Levels of provision are explained in three broad terms: universal, targeted and bespoke. The majority of children's needs are met with universal provision, a smaller number's needs are met with targeted provision and a small number (those who will be considered for 'Yr Academi') need bespoke support for their needs to be met.

On the following pages, please see a comprehensive entry and exit criteria scoring tool which is intended to be used as a method of assessing and prioritising needs in addition to planning for the need. Each column is to be seen as a best-fit description. This has been adapted from the 'Barriers to Learning Matrix'.

In order to determine which children who gain access to this additional learning needs class, a panel of school staff and specialists (such as Early Years ALN Team, Link ALN Officer, Families First and Educational Psychologist) will meet with the family to determine what support should look like moving forward and to assess the appropriateness of Yr Academi for each individual.

Engagement and Participation	Fully engaged and participating across the board	Engaged in some activities where there is interest but can cause low level disruption. May need support in some aspects of learning, emotional regulation, personal care, sensory needs and behaviour management	The student is partly engaged throughout the day with some support needed in some aspects of learning, emotional regulation, personal care, sensory needs and behaviour management. - This student may require high levels of support, although this may be reduced at appropriate times throughout the day. - At this level of engagement there is an expectation students can appropriately self-occupy for short periods of time.	Rarely engaged or participating in activities. Frequent daily challenging behaviour /withdrawn and or isolated. Disrupting the teaching and learning of others. Requires some involvement with outside agencies. Complete disengagement from mainstream schooling and requires frequent physical intervention unable to self- regulate behaviour. Requires specialist intervention / teaching high level of involvement with outside agencies.	There are low levels of engagement throughout the day in the vast majority of aspects relating to learning, emotional regulation, personal care, sensory needs and behaviour management. - Engagement is emerging or fleeting. Are most likely to require high levels of staff input to support engagement, at identified key areas, to ensure progression in learning; this is however dependent on the individual student needs, and may be due to behavioural difficulties, sensory needs, or in line with their cognitive disability. - At this level of engagement students may be able to self-occupy but this usually presents as inappropriate interactions, or negative behaviours that create a barrier to their own or others learning.

Pupils may have a very high level of Cortical Visual Impairment (pupil makes little or no use of visual information) together with a high level of additional difficulties. Pupils may have a Multi-Sensory Impairment (MSI) - combination of significant visual and hearing difficulties. Pupils will have difficulties in perception, communication and in the acquisition of information. There is little or no incidental learning. Pupils will have significant long term difficulties in accessing the curriculum, requiring specialist/and or additional support, with extensive resource implications for the school. Adaptations will be required to the environment to ensure safe access and an appropriate learning environment e.g. acoustically treated rooms, visually uncluttered, quiet environment.

As learning needs may change over time, a child's enrolment in a special class should be kept under continual review by the school. At a minimum, a review will take place once a year and include a careful examination of the child's progress in achieving his/her learning targets. The review will consider:

- The child's views and those of family members, teachers and other relevant professionals;
- The suitability of the special class placement; and,
- Whether the child's needs might be best addressed in a mainstream setting or whether a more supported setting is required (e.g. special school setting).

Following a decision that the special class is no longer the most appropriate placement, a child may move to:

- a mainstream class within our school;
- a mainstream class within a different school;
- an assessment centre; or,
- a special school.

Financing

- a. Financing Context: Each year, we are provided with Additional Learning Needs Funding to be used for Complex and Highly Complex pupils. For FY2024-2025, this amount is £53,108. In the last financial year (2023-2024), our expenditure on Additional Learning Needs support along with intervention was c.£82,715. This does of course not account for financial implications and time allocation of supporting Complex and Highly Complex pupils in small groups within the class. Last year financial year, allocated time on a 1:1 or small group (1:2/1:3) basis accounts for an approximate 1.4 of a TA. This financial year, the allocated time that was anticipated for 1:1 or small group (1:2/1:3) accounted for 2.5 of a TA. In the last days, 4 children have been allocated additional funding for ALN provision by the ALN Panel due to increasing highly complex needs (£21,334) which means the addition of another TA bringing the anticipated level of staffing to 3.5 TAs. Since our last meeting, 2 children have been refused specialist placement and the requirement will now fall upon the school to make significant adjustments for these children. It is anticipated that 2 others will be refused specialist placement due to availability of spaces and parental choice for Welsh language support. This is very hard to quantify due to the situation changing on a monthly or even weekly basis at present. However, 3.5 TAs at Grade 5 and Scale Point 14 (which is the average for a Level 3 Teaching Assistant) runs at £116,042.50. By setting up Yr Academi, we could reduce staffing costs significantly by around 56.5%.

b. Planned Associated Costs:

i. Capital Building Costs:

Full quotes available at request. Where possible, we have attempted to get like-for-like quotations. However, some companies' skills would require us to get some additional tradespeople to adapt certain elements.

1. Quote 1: £16,975.00 (adaption of the room, but not including sprinkler systems adaption and fire alarm adaption). Therefore, an anticipated £4,500 would be needed to put these elements right.
2. Quote 2: £21,192.00 (adaption of the room and safety systems)
3. Quote 3: £21,932.00 (adaption of the room and safety systems)

ii. Resource and Finance Costs: £10,000 in FY 2024-2025 (and £2,500 per annum thereafter)

iii. Staffing Model and Associated Costs:

1. Teacher, 0.5 Teaching Time and 0.1 PPA Time = MP4-UPS3 = £23,428.00-£32,720.00. My plan is to put an experienced practitioner in this role who is UPS2 meaning a cost of £32,583.60.
2. HTLA, 0.5 Teaching Time = Grade 6, SCP 20 = £17,837.50
3. TOTAL STAFFING WORST CASE SCENARIO = £50,557.00
4. TOTAL STAFFING REALISTIC CASE SCENARIO = £50,420.00.

iv. Training Costs: £2,000 for FY2024-2025.

v. Buffer Costs: £3,000

c. High-Level Forecasting

Please find below a table outlining the estimated costs for the next 5 years. Assuming that a member of staff who is UPS2 moves to UPS3 in 2025-2026 and a 3% increase in costs per annum.

Timeframes

A new academic year and adjustments of personnel to our Senior Management Team bring challenges to establishing any new venture. It will also have an impact on timeframes due to capacity. As a result, it is anticipated that the Autumn Term of 2024-2025 will be allocated to fully establishing systems and processes, finalising capital building work and ensuring quality training for staff. We also anticipate that this will be a focus of our School Development Plan.

Staffing of classes for 2024-2025 as well as leadership responsibilities have been thoughtfully worked out to allow for capacity of individuals intended to staff Yr Academi.

When looking at Senior Leadership Team and Headteacher capacity for implementing this new ALN class, we are currently advertising (interally and externally) for an additional Progress Step Leader who will join our team in January 2025. In the meantime, September workload planning and staffing structures have been adjusted to support the school's operational continuity and for staff development over the Autumn Term.

Update on Establishing 'Yr Academi'

12/11/2024

As governors will know from conversations we have had in meetings, 'Yr Academi' is in the process of being established. There are two main aspects to this: (1) the pedagogy and provision and (2) the physical space.

At Ysgol Panteg, 'Yr Academi' will aim for every child to experience an amazing educational experience. 'Yr Academi' will help us to:

- Provide a safe, secure, and purposeful environment, which will allow children to work at their own pace, have fun, and enjoy themselves. It will enable them to develop a love for learning and ensure that it will be a key priority that all of our children are happy at school.
- Provide a flexible, practical, personalised approach to our curriculum with an emphasis on core communication skills, wellbeing, and life skills for independence, interactions to build relationships, cognition, and learning skills to believe in themselves. Ensure that the curriculum intent, implementation, and impact will be embedded across all subjects and all pupils, regardless of their additional learning needs.
- Ensure that all pupils will be challenged to reach their full potential, and no child will be left behind.
- Ensure that our pupils' individualised development plans will be current, appropriate, and progressive.
- Help us develop lessons, experiences, and opportunities that will explore and develop, creating additional literacy and numeracy opportunities and development.
- Strengthen relationships between children, staff, and families rooted in nurture, trust, challenge, and mutual respect.
- Help us to grow pupils' voices, ensuring they will be active, valued, and embedded as part of our democratic culture, especially regarding their own educational journeys and aspirations. Ensure that we will develop our learning and wellbeing provision, where our offer will be an integral part of the learner's journey.

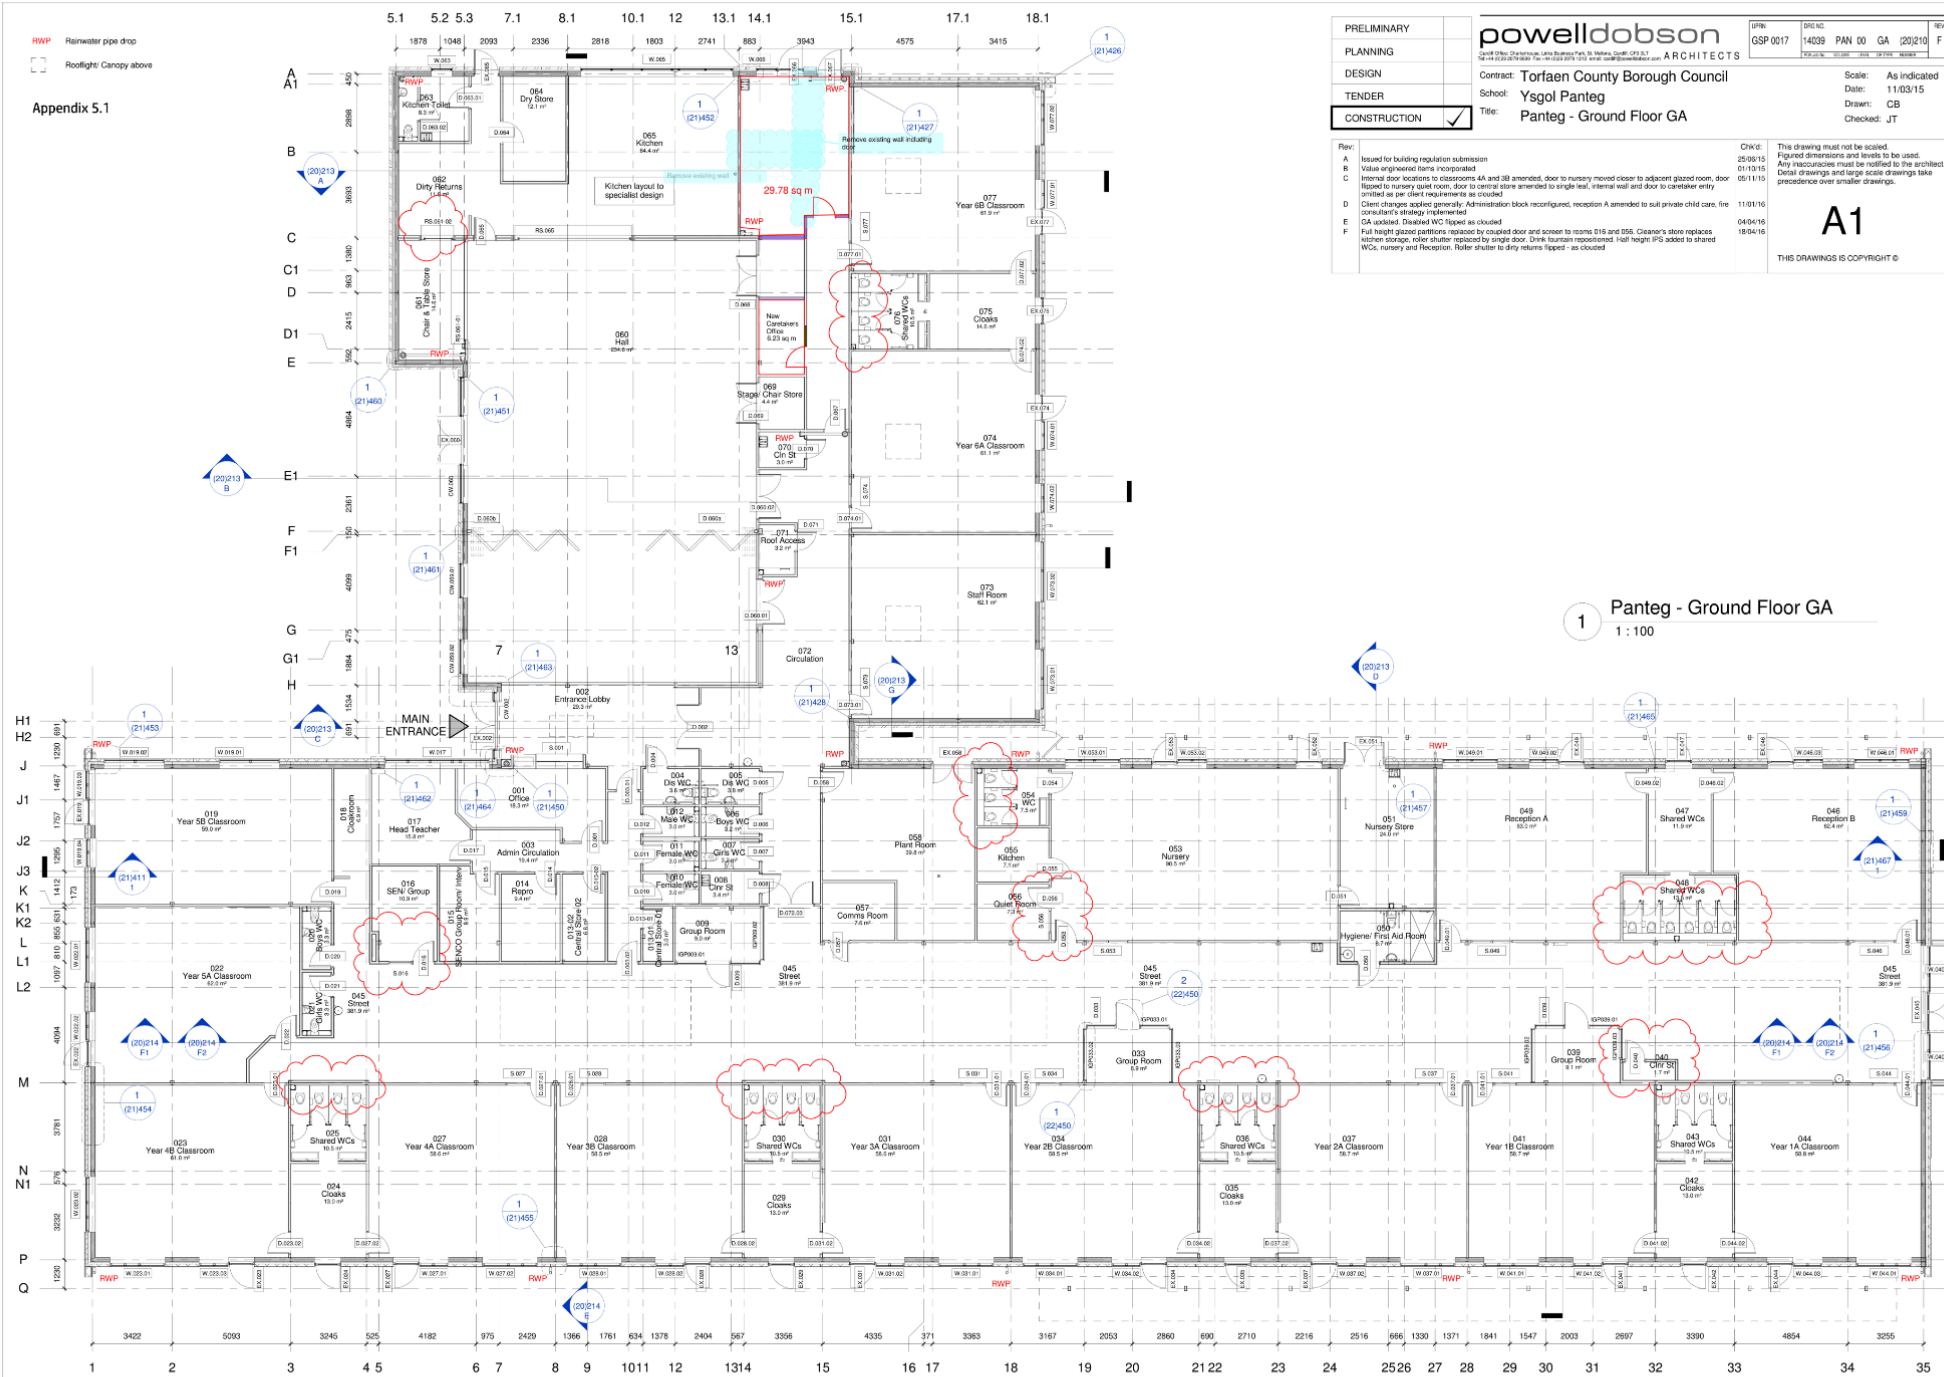

For the purposes of this short report, I want to give governors a concise update for these aims which will give an overview of where we are along our journey.

Provide a safe, secure, and purposeful environment.	This has been our biggest challenge. After planning was rejected for our original intended space, we have worked over the last 3 months with TCBC and their Consultant Advisors (Gleeds) to help us identify and plan a better space. This has been a frustratingly complex and slow process considering that we, as a school, after taking advice before the Summer holidays, thought that we were ready to go with the building work. However, Torfaen Planning and Gleeds have worked to create a plan (as well as a backup option) that ensures compliance. The CoG has been involved in some of these conversations to help us in the process. Appendix 5.1 gives the preferred option which has an estimated cost of £55,147.56. Appendix 5.2 gives the backup option which has an estimate of £43,810.86. Negotiations and discussions have been held with Torfaen around costs – TCBC have offered to pay c.£12k for the technical drawings. They have also offered £10k to cover costs since our discussions have stated that our build estimate was £45k. CoG and Steve Tong have been in discussion around what would happen should the tendering process show that it would cost more than £55,147.56 and the result of those conversations is that further discussions can take place with TCBC prior to any build to ensure the school's costs to do not increase. The timeline for this, provided by TCBC and Gledes is to be completed on the 14/04/2024. See Appendix 3 for the project's Gantt Chart. Whilst not having the permanent designated space is far from ideal, staff are doing their best with the temporary space designated and we are seeing results – more information given below.

Provide a flexible, practical, personalised approach to our curriculum. Ensure that the curriculum intent, implementation, and impact will be embedded across all subjects.	Through baseline assessments, we have forensically identified what elements the children require immediate support with this has give us priorities to plan personalised approaches to intervention. This has meant that staff have prepared specific activities and learning experiences to aid these immediate priorities. When we have a better designated space, we will be able to create a system of focus tasks, enriched provision areas for independent play exploration and enhanced permanent provision areas for continuous basic skills development.
Ensure that all pupils will be challenged to reach their full potential, and no child will be left behind.	The team have been developing a tracking system both for Individual Development plan targets and for general assessment of progress. The team have worked on an assessment spreadsheet looking at literacy first of all to be able to track progress and to steer future planning. This will ensure that children are tracked very closely in 'Yr Academi' and ensure that we are focusing/planning the correct tasks.
Ensure that our pupils' individualised development plans will be current, appropriate, and progressive.	PCP meetings have been held with families and specialists for 9 families who are currently accessing our socialisation phase of the class. Intervention groups are being held more intensively than previously. During these sessions, full baseline assessments have been undertaken which have informed the co-development of One Page Profiles with children and families. Individual Development Plans are being reviewed, renewed or created where appropriate. These plans include SMART targets which are broken down for everyday focus – these have been the focus of the intervention.
Help us develop lessons, experiences, and opportunities that will explore and develop, creating additional literacy and numeracy opportunities and development.	The focus of the interventions held so far is limited by the physical space development. However, staff have been doing their best to provide literacy and numeracy opportunities and development that are appropriate for the developmental stage of each child. The staff are utilising the P-Scales approach for some pupils and the descriptors from Progress Stages of the National Curriculum. There are two direct learning results from this: (1) the amount of appropriate learning experiences has increased significantly allowing these children who would normally stand out in class as needing more support and bespoke activities to have more time working in their zone of proximal development; (2) we have been able to provide far more kinaesthetic learning experiences to these children which have provided them with more access to learning provisions. Both of these elements, however, are hampered by the lack of a designated permanent physical space for 'Yr Academi' which we hope will be remedied by the investment and building work planned for 2025. This is due to us not being able to set up enhanced permanent learning areas which allow children to be freer in exploration and experimentation with kinaesthetic provisions.
Strengthen relationships between children, staff, and families rooted in nurture, trust, challenge, and mutual respect.	This element has been the most successful part of our socialisation phase. Children are expressing to their class teachers that they are 'happier'. Families are expressing that children feel 'safer' and 'less anxious' about school. We are seeing children transition easier from family to school and back again at the end of the day – and we believe that when we have a designated area, this will be enhanced. Needs of pupils are better understood by staff through the baseline assessments carried out.
Help us to grow pupils' voices, ensuring they will be active, valued, and embedded as part of our democratic culture, especially regarding their own educational journeys and aspirations.	More time has been spent gathering children's voices especially with regard to the PCP meetings, One Page Profiles and Individual Development Plans. We better giving attention to individuals' needs – we have some way to go with this still. Targets are being developed and are forming a key part of the provision – as children grow more confident – some will be able to give more insight into their own aims and aspirations.

What is the school's current rationale for engaging in P4C?	Ysgol Panteg engages in Philosophy for Children (P4C) to develop pupils' ability to think critically, creatively, collaboratively, and caringly. We believe all children are capable of deep thinking and that P4C provides a structured way for them to explore meaningful questions, understand different perspectives, and express their ideas confidently. Our current rationale is to use P4C not only to enhance academic achievement but to support the personal, social, and emotional development of every learner. It is fully integrated into our bilingual curriculum and reflects our commitment to creating a thoughtful, respectful, and reflective school community.

Building a Community of Philosophical Enquiry	Pupils can set and revise their own 4C focus for development Pupils can demonstrate and/or exemplify behaviours, skills and attitudes related to the 4Cs Pupils use the language of philosophical enquiry and caring and collaborative behaviour within and beyond P4C sessions Pupils demonstrate respectful agreement and disagreement	As the Philosophy for Children (P4C) Lead at Ysgol Panteg, I have worked strategically to embed the principles of philosophical enquiry across the curriculum and progression steps. The following statement outlines how we have met, and in many cases exceeded, the Gold Award criteria, supported by the evidence provided in the appendices. Pupils across the school are actively engaged in setting and revising their own development goals in relation to the 4Cs (Critical, Creative, Caring, and Collaborative thinking), as outlined in the P4C Skills Sheet (Appendix 9). This document maps over 40 skills across all progression steps and supports learners in monitoring their own progress with increasing independence. This is further supported by
Questioning and commenting	Pupils are increasingly confident in formulating coherent philosophical questions (common, central, contestable and connecting)

	Pupils are involved in the discussion of concepts and questions relevant to real life, using the language of philosophical enquiry	evidence in Appendix 3 , which showcases pupils' own formulated questions— illustrating their growth in philosophical thinking.
Development of Philosophical Thinking	Most pupils can use strong-reasons in relevant and meaningful ways Most pupils can reflect philosophically about their own experiences Some pupils can identify assumptions Some pupils can respectfully challenge the reasons given by others Pupils are able to develop their understanding of concepts in the Community of Enquiry and in other areas of their learning Pupils recognise the distinction between having a confrontational argument and constructing an argument for discussion in a reasonable way Pupils' reason-giving, reasoning and meaning-making are visible in other areas of learning	Through cross-curricular integration (Appendix 2) and a whole-school approach outlined in our School Development Plan (Appendix 6), the language and behaviours associated with philosophical enquiry are consistently promoted across all Areas of Learning and Experience (AoLEs). Observations (Appendices 8a–c) capture pupils engaging critically and creatively in dialogue, using reasoning and building on one another's ideas with respect and clarity. These sessions highlight pupils' increasing ability to respectfully agree and disagree, and to explore complex concepts through structured enquiry. As we no longer have full observations at Ysgol Panteg, these sheets by Jane's visits have been used as evidence in this area. As we now engage in 'Learning Walks', the collection of data from singular, full observations is now not as required to submit for this application. Our Humanities AoLE agenda (Appendix 5) and the Ysgol Panteg Independence Framework (Appendix 10) further reinforce these values beyond P4C sessions, with concepts such as fairness, Welsh identity, and freedom explored within real-life contexts. Learners frequently reflect on and apply these ideas, demonstrating transfer of philosophical language and behaviours into other subjects and broader school life.
Review and Evaluation	Pupils are able to reflect and evaluate, as individuals and as a whole group, on the progress of their thinking and the process of enquiry against the behaviour, skills and attitudes of the 4Cs. Where appropriate, they select their own choice of review strategy	The use of meaningful stimuli, relevant to pupils' own experiences and the wider world, ensures that philosophical thinking is authentic and engaging. Appendix 1 contains structured lesson plans that build these opportunities, while Appendix 11 documents my role in leading training for local schools, modelling how to deliver P4C across various contexts. Additionally, Appendix 12 evidences an external visit from MPS where the impact of P4C on pupil engagement, reasoning, and dialogue was clearly recognised. Learners are becoming increasingly confident in constructing arguments and identifying assumptions. Observations and reflective notes (Appendix 8) capture moments where pupils challenge one another's reasoning in a respectful, reasoned manner. This has been supported by structured sentence stems, scaffolding, and consistent expectations across the school. Review and reflection are a regular part of our enquiries. Pupils are encouraged to evaluate both the process and the quality of their thinking, with some choosing their own review strategies in line with the 4Cs (Appendix 9 and Appendix 3). Pupil voice and self-assessment activities reinforce a culture of metacognition and shared ownership over learning.

		As a school, we have invested in professional learning. I have completed the Lead P4C course (Appendix 4 and 4b), and all new staff have completed SAPERE Level 1 training. This commitment has ensured consistency of approach and enabled the wider staff body to model good practice. Our HMS day training session (Appendix 11) provided a platform to share our journey and inspire other schools to adopt a whole-school P4C approach. We also had several of our staff member of Ysgol Panteg attend the training, as listed above.

Classroom practice	Most P4C practitioners show sustained and embedded P4C practice through consistent planning of P4C sessions The P4C methodology and enquiry approach is explicitly used in teaching and learning in subject areas	At Ysgol Panteg, we have established a robust and consistent approach to P4C planning, delivery, and development. The practice of our P4C facilitators demonstrates sustained commitment, with most staff regularly delivering well-structured enquiries as shown in lesson plans provided in Appendices 1 and 2. These include both standalone and cross-curricular sessions and show a consistent use of philosophical methodology across subjects.
Facilitation skills	Most P4C practitioners' facilitation encourages pupils to follow group-initiated lines of enquiry and their chosen conceptual questions Most P4C practitioners use questioning and other strategies to support and challenge pupils' thinking, explore philosophical concepts and deepen thinking skills Most P4C practitioners use a range of strategies to develop pupils' understanding of the 4Cs thinking model The P4C leader and P4C facilitators consistently support pupils to challenge opinions and assumptions, and to request reasons, evidence or examples from each other The P4C leader and P4C facilitators trained to Level 2A and 2B are able to explore questions around a range of philosophical concepts, such as fairness, equality, social justice, democracy, as appropriate to pupils' age and experience	Philosophical enquiry has become embedded in wider teaching and learning, evidenced through medium-term planning documentation (Appendix 5) and our School Development Plan (Appendix 6), which highlights P4C as a key strategic priority. Planning clearly shows how philosophical concepts such as fairness, equality, justice, identity, and democracy are explored through meaningful classroom discussions in a wide range of curriculum areas, including Humanities and Health & Wellbeing. Facilitators across the school support pupils in following group-initiated lines of enquiry, encouraging them to develop their own conceptual questions. This is documented in Appendix 3, where learner-generated questions reflect confidence in choosing and exploring big ideas. These practices are supported by strong facilitation techniques, observed and reviewed in Appendices 8a–c, and regularly refined through peer observation and feedback, which I monitor and review in collaboration with SLT.
Planning	Supported by the P4C leader, P4C facilitators plan a series or cycle of P4C enquiries consistently, either as a distinct P4C session or as part of a curriculum area where philosophical concepts are evident P4C is identified in medium term planning, within relevant subject areas The P4C leader and P4C facilitators plan for a broad range of philosophical enquiries, exercises and reviews	Most P4C practitioners at Ysgol Panteg effectively use questioning techniques and scaffold pupils' thinking using a wide range of enquiry tools and reflection strategies. Through targeted training and modelling, practitioners have developed confidence in deepening pupil thinking, promoting dialogue that encourages reasoning, the giving of evidence, and the respectful challenging of assumptions. This is visible in the teaching resources (Appendices 1, 2 and 9) and reflective sessions documented in the school's observation notes. Our team has received progressive training in P4C pedagogy. I also lead regular in-house CPD, such as the HMS Day session (Appendix 11), and staff meetings, which supported colleagues from within and beyond the school in improving their facilitation skills and understanding of philosophical concepts. Facilitators at Ysgol Panteg confidently explore philosophical themes appropriate to their learners' age and experience. Through collaborative planning and supported curriculum links (Appendix 5), staff are enabled to build meaningful cycles of enquiry. We maintain a clear focus on building the 4Cs progressively, with strategies and behaviours mapped across all stages using our bespoke P4C skills framework (Appendix 9).
Review and Evaluation	The P4C leader and facilitators continue to develop their own understanding of philosophical concepts The P4C leader and facilitators show an understanding of P4C pedagogy and make connections between P4C principles and general teaching The P4C leader and P4C facilitators are able to accurately analyse some pupils' dialogue using the 4Cs as criteria and support other P4C practitioners to be able to do similarly P4C practitioners and pupils review P4C together using a range of strategies Peer observation is planned for, and informs, future planning for staff progression	Regular peer observations of P4C sessions are planned into our cycle of professional development, with findings discussed and used to inform future planning. This reflective culture is embedded in our performance management processes, where my role as P4C lead is clearly outlined (Appendix 7). I provide regular support to colleagues in both the planning and delivery of P4C sessions, acting as a mentor to new staff and offering feedback informed by the 4Cs framework. This has included facilitating reflective reviews with pupils and staff alike, using a range of review strategies across the school, ensuring that evaluation is a shared and evolving process. Appendix 9 demonstrates the document I made for the staff at Ysgol Panteg when concerns were raised by the team about how they track progression within their classroom. Ongoing development of practitioner knowledge and philosophical understanding is central to our approach. We regularly explore philosophical themes and the pedagogy of enquiry through team meetings, coaching sessions, and shared reflections. Our staff make strong connections between P4C and wider teaching strategies, as reflected in cross-curricular planning and observed sessions. Our team has also developed the capacity to analyse dialogue through the lens of the 4Cs, using it to guide next steps in facilitation and pupil development. As P4C Lead, I have supported staff in using this as a diagnostic tool to refine questioning, deepen enquiry, and nurture collaborative thinking. Evidence from our review processes and

Headteacher and SLT commitment	P4C is part of the long-term strategy and vision for the school	Philosophy for Children (P4C) is a key element of Ysgol Panteg’s long-term strategy and vision. It is embedded within our School Development Plan (Appendix 6) as a central driver for developing critical, collaborative, caring and creative thinking across the curriculum. This vision is shared and supported at all levels of leadership, including governors, and is reinforced by our school-wide commitment to reflective, inquiry-based pedagogy. The school has ensured that all staff receive relevant P4C training as part of our ongoing CPD strategy. All new staff members undertake SAPERE Level 1 training as part of their induction programme, with a clear annual plan in place for sustaining this commitment. This is evidenced by training logs and the Level 1 session delivered as part of a whole-school HMS day (Appendix 11). The training not only introduces foundational practice, but also supports consistency and confidence in delivery across all progression steps. As P4C Lead, I have completed both the SAPERE Level 2A and 2B courses, including coursework and course reports (Appendices 4 & 4b), and support colleagues in developing their practice. Our school meets the Gold Award expectation of having at least two Level 2 trained practitioners, ensuring sustainability and continuity of high-quality enquiry practice. I have also completed the P4C Lead training as of June, 2025. We are proud to be an outward-facing school that advocates for P4C within our wider community. This includes hosting schools for observations of practice (Appendix 12) and delivering external CPD through events such as our “Taster in P4C” session to local schools
Level of whole school training	The school has had whole-school TFFT training across the relevant key stages or subject areas (secondary) A minimum of two teaching professionals, including the P4C leader(s), are trained at Level 2A and 2B and have completed the 2A course work and 2B course report. (Larger schools or units, for example those with 3-form entry+ or secondary will require four staff trained to L2A) Ongoing yearly plan for Level 1 training is in place for new teaching staff Programme in place for whole staff continuous professional development in P4C
Involving the whole school	P4C practice is communicated to parents and/or the wider community Whole school policy and vision for P4C in place and supported by governors School advocates P4C to other schools and offers opportunities to observe P4C practice in the classroom

	Subject leaders are regularly reviewing and updating how P4C can be incorporated within their subject areas School shows high profile of P4C through various media	during our HMS Day (Appendix 11). This work has strengthened our partnerships and raised the profile of P4C locally.
Review and Evaluation	Consistent process of monitoring and evaluation of whole school P4C progress in place Consistent process in place to monitor impact of P4C on learning and whole school culture/ethos, for example end of KS attainment, behaviour policies	P4C is also shared with parents and the wider school community. Regular updates are included in school newsletters, termly themes are published in bulletins, and we are planning further outreach such as a parent workshop (see strategic plan). Our school ethos visibly reflects the values of P4C, which is demonstrated through classroom culture, behaviour expectations, and approaches to collaborative learning (Appendix 10). Subject leaders work collaboratively to integrate P4C meaningfully into their Areas of Learning and Experience (AoLEs), as seen in the Humanities agenda (Appendix 5) and cross-curricular lesson plans (Appendix 2). This strategic approach ensures philosophical thinking is embedded within disciplinary learning, not limited to standalone sessions. The impact of P4C is consistently monitored and evaluated across the school. A structured observation and review cycle is in place (Appendices 8a–c), with regular feedback used to inform practice. I lead on peer observation processes and reflect these findings in discussions with senior leadership, ensuring a feedback loop that supports whole-school improvement. Performance management processes also include clear P4C targets (Appendix 7), aligning our school's P4C strategy with professional development and school-wide goals. We continue to track the wider impact of P4C on pupil outcomes, wellbeing, engagement and classroom dialogue. Staff note improved behaviour, more purposeful collaboration, and greater depth in pupil reasoning across all year groups. P4C is referenced in school assemblies, displays, and media communications—contributing to a high-profile, values-driven school identity. Through this consistent, strategic, and collaborative approach, Ysgol Panteg demonstrates not only excellence in P4C practice but also the infrastructure needed to sustain and evolve it over time. Our long-term vision is to continue using P4C as a transformative force within our curriculum, pedagogy, and whole-school ethos.
